Cynthia is an Advanced Practice Registered Nurse and Divisional Educator for Bayada Hospice. She received her BSN from Creighton University and her Master's in Nursing from the University of Pennsylvania.

For the first 21 years of her career, she practiced as a nurse-midwife, and has assisted more than 500 women in childbirth.

Ten years ago, Cynthia joined the Bayada Hospice team in Norwich, VT, and discovered a deep passion for caring for and supporting hospice patients and their families through end of life. Cynthia completed a post-masters certificate program at The Shiley Institute for Palliative Care at California State University and is a Certified Hospice and Palliative Care Nurse. As Divisional Educator, Cynthia provides end of life education to patients, families, facility staff, and communities in Vermont and New Hampshire.

Cynthia was raised in New Jersey, but gratefully settled in Vermont to raise her family. Her two adult children are off doing good in the world, and are her life's greatest gift. She lives in White River Junction, with her dog Vivi, where she gardens, knits, sews, and makes all sorts creations when she is not working or camping or travelling to do volunteer international health work.
